

Welcome to the Mesa

Cate School is set on the California coast, just south of Santa Barbara, with mountains on one side and the Pacific Ocean on the other. We've been here for more than 100 years, offering curious, hard-working, and creative students from all over the world access to outstanding faculty and a challenging program. Excellence and innovation run deep and wide here; having a Cate diploma is preparation for the best colleges and universities, and a lifelong association with a life-changing school.
